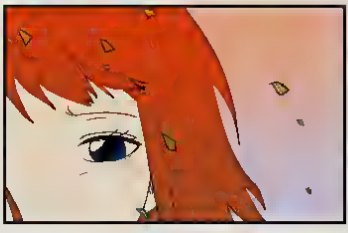
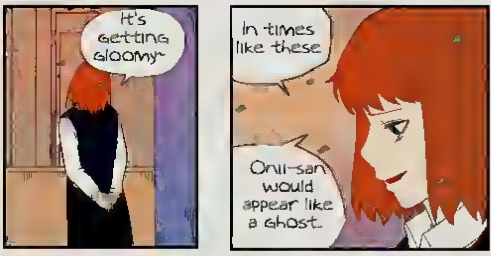
Unimportant Translator comments

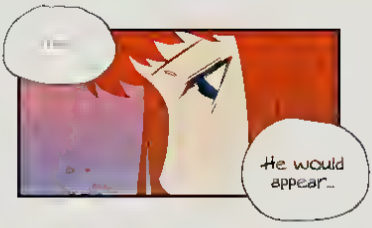
Since "oniisan" doesn't have the same connotation as "ajusshi"(I think, I don't know Korean lol) I was wondering how the Japanese version would be different from the Korean one.

In the korean version, Suwan calls the stranger "ajusshi" and he becomes hurt but in the Japanese version she just says "it's none of your business!"





It's getting gloomy~
In times like these
Onii-san would appear like a ghost..



He would appear..

Without saying anything...
